Dear Sir:

I already provided a complete translation of the written defense. I'm sending to you, anyway, the original version in portuguese, so we can change some ideas before the translation gets ready.

I ask you to repeat the page of your last fax referring to PAMELA RAE LEMON, wich was not very clear.

About the defense, please notice that at the first three pages we mention a legal opinion wich makes a precedent (against concession of extradition) when a deal occurs.

On the next six pages, we deeply discuss some legal aspects about the inexistance of crime facing brazilian law, for the lack of material proofs: brazilain law demand material proofs instead of the " hear say" accepted by the american law.

From the page 8 on, untill pege 12, we talk about the fact that the american policy on drugs matter, in the last years, is getting rough and that we, in Brazil, don't have to obbey this pattern.

We repeat that we don't have material proofs, and that , in Brazil, we don't have the crime of conspiracy and , if the american sistem of Justice is going backwards , we don't have to follow that example.

From page 14 on we speak about what happened to the other involved, telling clearly that John does't have to / pay alone for something wich has already a immoral deal made with the Public Attorney.

Resuming, we talk about some concrete facts of the case. We ask, at the end, official letters from Supremo Tribunal Federal (Supreme Court) to the Department of Justice (american), asking about the correspondance between some aspects of the american law.

So, please wait until the complete translation will be done.

Can I ask you, please, about the second parcel of our fees? I think it was supposed to be paid this month and we will like to change some data. Excuse for touching on this point , but we are not sure about the dates and ammounts we ad justed and would like to clear this.

I (Carlos) talked to John today. We'll be with him next week. He is OK.

That's it for now. We are believing that we found the reasonable ways to make a decent defense of the case. The next step will be a legal opinion of the Public Attorney, and then , the judgement. I think that this will be on the end of september or the beggining of August.

Your's,
